

HIRING NEW LOGISTIC EMPLOYEE

Vacancy Logistics Employee (24 hours per week)

Will you be our new colleague?

Since the start of RMN in 2002 the company successfully developed into a leading technical whole-sale company for Shipping, Offshore and Industry with a worldwide customers. Knowledge of materials, high quality service and quality products from first-class manufacturers and brands (mainly from Europe) forms the basis of our philosophy. Due to expansion, we are looking for a logistic employee for our warehouse in Dordrecht.

As a logistics employee, you are part of our logistics process. You ensure that all products are delivered on time and you are responsible for inventory management of the goods and takes care for a tidiness warehouse. Do you feel completely at home in a warehouse environment and you are a responsible person driven in your work, then we are looking for you.

Within this position, you will be involved in processing incoming goods, picking orders, packing orders and making them ready to ship out to the customers. In addition to these operational tasks you will also perform administrative work.

What do we expect from you:

- You are proficient in the Dutch and English language
- You have a proactive and responsible work attitude
- You are willing to follow training courses when needed
- You are flexible to pick-up different work tasks
- You like to work in a small team

What do we offer you:

- A dynamic and friendly team
- Excellent employment conditions
- A (possible full-time) job with responsibility
- An informal but professional working atmosphere
- Possibilities for your own initiatives
- A permanent employment contract if you perform well

This position concerns a long-time position. Salary is negotiable and depends on: knowledge, age and experience.

If this vacancy appeals you, please send your motivation letter and CV to info@rmn.eu for the attending of Mr. A. Scholten.

Aquisition in response to this vacancy is not appreciated.